

Any new regulations, that enable more media consolidation, are only going to weaken our democracy in the long run. We need more, not less, diversity in the media. Control of broadcast and print media by a few conglomerates will do serious harm to the democratic process. Does anyone in the FCC have the guts to stand up and fight for our right to see, hear and read many diverse viewpoints on all issues affecting our lives??